Hillview Mail Switch Stirs Township Ire

A fierce tug-of-war, with Hillview Crest playing the part of the rope, appeared to be shaping up today between the little town of Decoto and the big town of Hayward.

The tussle broke into the open Monday when local auto dealers learned that on May 1 Hillview Crest, one-half mile from Decoto, began getting house-to-house mail delivery from Hayward, five miles distant.

"We'll lose 600 car registrations—and that's what our new car allocations are based on," Bill Short, Centerville auto executive, complained to the Centerville Chamber on Monday.

Short explained that Hillview's 600 families henceforth will be part of Hayward, not of Washington Township, as far as his Detroit office is concerned.

An even more alarming view of the issue was taken Tuesday night by Mrs. Antone Costa, 508 Eighth Street, Decoto. She attended the Centerville meeting and brought away addressed a letter to the Decoto Chamber. Said she:

"If we keep letting Hayward have a monopoly on our community it soon will take in some of our territory as its own."

At the Decoto Chamber session, Clyde Martin of Hillview spoke for at least some of the tract residents when he told President Manuel Hidalgo:

"I don't like the Hayward address any better than those auto-dealers. I consider Hillview Crest part of Decoto. For myself, the minute we can get home deliveries I'd like to come back to Decoto." And to prove this, he joined the Decoto Chamber.

The postal secession reportedly was sparked by several Hillviewers, including Mrs. Sally Falconer, who circulated petitions several months ago to have Hayward start deliveries so they wouldn't have to drive into Decoto to pick up mail at the post office. The petitions were forwarded to Washington. First word of the shift came late last week when Postmistress Mary Janeiro was informed of it by Assistant Postmaster General J. J. Lawler through Congressman George Miller.

Mrs. Janeiro has been trying to get home delivery for all of Decoto but has been stymied by federal laws which decree that a postoffice must do $10,000 worth of business per year first, and have a population of 10,000.

The Centerville Chamber adopted a cautious attitude, resolving to ask the Township Chamber to "investigate the possibility of getting house-to-house mail deliveries for Hillview Crest through Decoto."

DECOTO, HILLVIEW GET DIAL PHONES FRIDAY, MAY 16

Installation of Decoto's dial-telephone system next Friday means Hillview Crest, 608-home subdivision to the north, will have 300 telephones by August.

This promise came today from S. D. Smith, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company in Hayward.

Decoto switches to dial service one minute after midnight next Thursday, Smith said. With the change, new phone numbers become effective throughout Decoto.

Special directories containing the new Decoto numbers will be mailed to all subscribers this week, Smith added. He cautioned them not to dial the new numbers until Friday, however, as the old system cannot complete calls to the new numbers.

Subscribers in other towns can obtain Decoto numbers by requesting "information," the manager said.

Smith disclosed the new system will cost $191,000, or about $615 for each telephone. Said he:

"We can install telephones for about 150 subscribers in Hillview Crest shortly after the cutover, and progressively about 150 more by August."

Enlargement of the phone system required construction of a new building at Seventh and H Streets, and installation of dial central-office equipment. Decoto and Hillview will be able to dial Hayward without toll charge.

MYSTERY MAN BORN IN CENTERVILLE

Do we have to tell you that last week's "Guess Who" was Mrs. W. H. Ford of Niles, or did you guess it?

Our mystery man for this week may confuse you. Don't play your first hunch; you may be wrong. If you can't guess, turn through the pages of this issue of the Register, and you will find the answer.

He was born on a ranch out of Centerville, and took up farming at a very early age.

When his father retired, the family moved into town.

He then worked for Garin's in Centerville.

He married the daughter of a neighbor. "The match was inevitable," says his wife, "as we saw each other so much." He and his wife are, incidentally, one of the happiest couples in the township.

After his marriage, the couple moved to Sacramento and for several months he held the position of sergeant-at-arms in the legislature of the state capital. Their oldest child was born in Sacramento.

The family then moved back to Centerville and he resumed his farming, becoming one of the most prosperous farmers in the township.

He was a soldier during the first World War, but got no farther than Long Island. He hopes to return to New York some day to see everything he missed at that time.

He takes a two weeks' vacation every year, but doesn't travel so far that he can't have members of his family with him and his wife for week-ends. A vacation at Tahoe, for example, is filled with days when "the kids"—now all grown—come up for a visit.

His daughters-in-law affectionately refer to him as "Curly."

He works hard and plays hard. His favorite forms of recreation are friendly games of poker—and the wrestling matches.

He is very, very active in civic

IRVINGTON BONDS ARE FORERUNNER OF MORE SCHOOLS

Irvington votes June 10 on a $258,000 school bond issue, but that is likely to be only the beginning of a much larger school program there.

This is the opinion of District Superintendent of Schools Gus Robertson, as expressed Tuesday to the Irvington Chamber of Commerce.

"By 1960, we should have 500 pupils in our present elementary school," Robertson predicted. "And at least two more complete schools in other locations."

But the superintendent said if subdivision plans go through, he sees "twenty schools" in the 18-square-mile Irvington district within 20 years. He said tracts on Driscoll Road and Irvington-Centerville Highway probably will be announced shortly.

The June 10 vote will determine whether six or more classrooms, plus auxiliary rooms, will be built by the fall of 1953. However, Robertson added:

"We aren't sure yet whether we'll have to build an annex or a complete new school." He said this will hinge on subdividers' plans in the summer months, and hinted the school board is keeping its own program flexible enough to handle either.

Enrollment at Irvington Elementary School now is at the 300 mark, but is expected to hit 470 next year. The school is not yet on double sessions, but Robertson warns this may come unless more classrooms are forthcoming.

Robertson asked the Chamber to endorse the bond issue at an early meeting, and President Walter Connolly indicated he would poll his members.

"Crowded schools have an adverse effect on new industry which is considering settling in a community," Robertson commented.

DECOTO MAY JOIN UNION SANITARY

Decoto is studying the possibility of annexing its sewer system to the Union Sanitary District.

This was disclosed Tuesday at a meeting of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce by Manuel White, a Decoto sanitary commissioner.

White confirmed rumors that his board has asked an engineer to investigate annexation possibilities.

"We didn't hire the man," he emphasized. "Not yet."

White said he "has been contacting people" toward Newark and Centerville from Decoto with the purpose of finding out how they would feel about such a move. And Bernie Joseph, secretary of the Decoto Chamber, added:

"It isn't as simple as just annexing. We have to find out first how the public feels about it." He said the Chamber is "doing its utmost" to find this out.

Next step awaits word from the big Sanitary District, White said.

NEWARK BANK HAS $200,000 PLEDGED

Six hundred twenty-six persons say they will make deposits totaling more than $200,000 if Newark opens a bank.

This was disclosed today by Ralph Goodwin, who has been tabulating replies to questionnaires sent out by the Newark Chamber of Commerce.

One hundred ten replies said the answers would also purchase bank stock if the bank is established.

Several Bay Area banks are known to be interested in the results of the survey.

affairs and is a member of several organizations.

He is a great party man, and is never happier than when he is host at a party. His parties, like his vacations, include "the kids," for he is a great family man.

Guess who!

DADS WILL GET THE WORD MONDAY FROM M.S.J. KIDS

Youth will take the helm Monday night at Mission San Jose.

"Teen-agers of the community will slip into official jobs of the MSJ Chamber of Commerce."

Then at a dinner meeting, the youngsters will tell their elders what they think is lacking in their home town and how they would correct it.

Slated to wield the president's gavel is Lawrence Fernandez, student at San Jose State College.

Other "officials," all from Washington Union High School, are: Thor Olsen, Evelyn Chambers, Shirley Cunha, Stanley Caires, Rebecca Overacker, David Koelsch, Gordon Agrella and Dewayne Hill.

Michael Overacker, president of the Chamber, invited all members of the community to attend the 8 o'clock session in Mission San Jose Grammar School to get the "teen-age slant on local problems."

JOSEPH SOARES KILLED BY TRUCK

Crushed by a heavy truck in Hayward, Joseph "Potsy" Soares, 51, Decoto highway maintenance worker, was killed outright last Tuesday.

Soares, native of Newark and heavy-equipment operator for the Alameda County Road Department for the past 22 years, was struck by the truck as he dismounted from his road-roller while working on Leila Street, investigating officers said.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Alameda County Hospital late Tuesday afternoon. The truck driver, H. A. Lindly, 27, was not held.

Soares lived at 11th and E Streets in Decoto and leaves his widow, Norma, a daughter, Mrs. Yvonne Conley of Hayward, and three grandchildren, Kathleen, Gayle and Linda Conley, as well as a sister, Mrs. Alice DeSalles of Niles.

Soares was widely known in this area. He was a member of UPEC Lodge No. 5, and the Druids of Centerville, and the Eagles of Alvarado.

Rosary services are tonight at 8:30 in the Berge Mortuary Company chapel, Niles.

Requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow (Saturday) at 9:30 a.m. in Our Lady of the Holy Rosary Church, Decoto, following services a half-hour earlier in the Berge chapel. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

CIVIL DEFENSE

Washington Township needs 100 volunteer ground observers for its Civil Defense program. These plane watchers must man the Newark Ground Observation Post on a 24-hour-a-day basis, beginning May 17. Men, women and high school students are urged to contact Area Supervisor Ken Foster, Newark 3-3902, to permit the station to relieve observers every four hours and so nobody will have to serve more than once a week. To date 23 volunteers have signed up. That leaves 77 to go. Don't let the Township down!

NILES HIGHWAY JUNK YARD BANNED

An application to operate a wrecking yard on the north side of the state highway opposite Niles was denied Tuesday by the Alameda County Planning Commission.

The application was filed by Eugene Haze for an auto wrecking yard to be operated on land which he proposed to rent from M. A. McDermott of Niles. The commissioners met in the Oakland Court House.

VALLEJO SITE TO BE TRAILER PARK, S. F. REPORTS

The historic Vallejo Mill property at the mouth of Niles Canyon has been leased for a trailer-court, according to an official of the city of San Francisco, which owns the site.

However, the reported lessor was evasive about his plans when quizzed yesterday by The Register.

John Brucato, superintendent of the agricultural division of the City Water Department said a 10-year lease has been granted to Edwin C. Thomas, works manager at the Pacific States Steel Mill.

"The understanding is that Mr. Thomas will make improvements, put in a playground, a picnic ground, and a first-class trailer court," Brucato said. "The city wants to see the canyon taken out of the honky-tonk class."

Thomas, however, refused to confirm Brucato's statement. Neither would he deny it. Said he: "I have the lease in my pocket if I want it. But I'd rather not say anything about it. I want to sound out public opinion first."

Brucato said the Public Utilities Commission 10 days ago approved the Thomas lease, with the proviso that the trailer court gets a green light from the Alameda County Planning Commission.

Brucato said he understood Thomas to say that he has this approval. Today Thomas denied this, and so did John Thomas (no relation), secretary of the planning commission.

In fact, said the planning official, he has seen no application for a trailer court on the site, and added the commission has been "unfavorable" to such enterprises along major highways. This attitude was confirmed by Robert Wright of Irvington, chairman of the commission.

County ordinances provide that no trailer courts may be built without county permission.

Brucato said the steel company executive has agreed to pay the City of San Francisco $1,100 the first year, graduated up to $2,000 in the tenth year.

The 7.8-acre site was in the news earlier this year when the Public Utilities Commission denied local petitions that it be made a public park. The Vallejo Mill, now in ruins, was the first in California.

HOSPITAL BOARD OKEHS SUIT

Directors of the Washington Township Hospital District Wednesday night voted to institute condemnation proceedings against a minority estate heir who is trying to balk their purchase of a $22,000 community hospital site.

The board told Attorney E. A. Quaresma to sue Mrs. Lillian I. Scott, who holds one-fortieth of the Stivers Estate.

The holders of the remaining thirty-nine fortieths already have agreed to sell the district 10 acres on Santos Road for $22,000. Mrs. Scott's share would run to around $500.

Quaresma last night exhibited a letter from Mrs. Scott in which she advised the directors:

"I will sign when the deal contains a clause that the property will be returned to the family and/or heirs in the event the hospital is not built."

The directors ignored the letter. A title company already has insured the deed, they reported. A. E. Alameda introduced a motion to allow Quaresma to proceed with the suit, and it was passed without dissent.

Several architects have applied to work on the building, which presumably will be financed by

Chicago Plastics Firm to Build Plant in Township

Washington Township boasted another big new industry this week with announcement that the Visking Corporation of Chicago—manufacturer of plastics—has picked Centerville for its West Coast plant.

The 30,000-square-foot plant, estimated to cost at least $500,000, will be located on Blacow Road between Central and Bane. It is expected to employ around 100 workers.

Announcement of the new plant came jointly from Visking Corp., and from Gene Manning, executive secretary of the Township Chamber of Commerce, who has been negotiating with the firm since January.

The plant will manufacture "Visqueen" polyethylene film and other plastics and will occupy an 18-acre site purchased this week from Charley Wauhab for a price understood to be $2500 an acre.

More specific information about the plant and its products is expected two weeks hence when Russell F. Pierce and R. McDowell, Visking engineers, arrive here from Terre Haute, where the corporation has another plant.

Visking, which pioneered polyethylene film for sausage casings and industrial uses, is the world's largest producer of this plastic. Other Visking plants are located in Little Rock and in Canada.

"We feel that Centerville provides a good base for our present and future customers in the West," a company announcement said.

Manning and Wauhab commented that Santa Clara, Stockton and other communities were bidding for the industry. Wauhab said land price may have been a factor in the selection, since Santa Clara property reportedly was offered at no less than $6000 an acre.

Wauhab stressed Visking operations are inoffensive and clean as far as smoke and noise are concerned.

Manning credited Wauhab for "cooperation" in the sale. The secretary also pointed out that all negotiations were carried on by the Washington Township Chamber, which represents all communities in the region.

"This is proof that Washington Township has much to offer industrial firms," he concluded.

Cancer Fund Low

With less than half its goal attained, the Cancer Fund Drive for Washington Township has been extended until May 15, Chairman A. A. Cristofani of Centerville announced today.

The goal is $1000. Cristofani urged residents to mail contributions to him at once, or to contact their community chairman.

STEEL UNION OFFICE

Union workmen at the Pacific States Steel mill are scheduled to open an office and meeting hall in Niles this week.

The announcement came today from Frank Stewart, head of a committee named for that purpose by Local 7361 of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO).

Stewart said the office, located at the east end of First Street, will be ready for occupancy within a few days. The union has rented it for the convenience of its members, he explained.

M'GONEGAL TOURS TOWNSHIP AREA

A township visitor this week was Charles C. McGonegal, Sunol real estate broker, and candidate for Congress from the new Eighth District—all of Alameda County southeast of Lake Merritt.

McGonegal is opposing the incumbent, Representative George Miller.

Now 57, McGonegal is nationally known for his work with disabled veterans. In World War I he lost both hands in a grenade explosion, and since then, fitted with prosthetic hooks, he has followed a career which includes postmaster of Bell, in Southern California, the national Field Secretaryship of the American Legion, his business, and even a license as an amateur airplane pilot.

McGonegal is in the process of organizing a local committee in his fight for the Republican nomination June 3. Acting head of this group is Leroy Broun, Centerville attorney.

VISITOR—C. C. McGonegal, Sunol realtor, toured local area this week as candidate for Congress.

S. P. R. S. I. WILL INSTALL TOMORROW

Installation of officers for Council No. 3 of S.P.R.S.I. will be held Saturday afternoon, May 10, at 1:30, at the I.D.E.S. Hall in Mission San Jose.

Officers to be installed are as follows: Miss Dolores Garcia, president; Mrs. Ella Andrade, vice-president; Mrs. Isabel Garcia, treasurer; Mrs. Marie Santos, secretary; Miss Edith Rogers, mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. Mae Dutra, marshal; Mrs. Aldena Garcia, Mrs. Mary Duarte, Mrs. Hortense Cunha, directors; and Mrs. Hortense Andrade, guard.

The outgoing president is Mrs. Mary Rogers.

"Gassy" Thompson, "Saint Patrick" Carter, "Snowshoe" Charlie, and "Skies" Coll, were well known and colorful personalities in the mining industry during the early days of the Southwestern United States.

Farmer's Question Corner

PREPARED BY American Foundation for Animal Health

WHAT ABOUT BLACKLEG?

Q: Are all farm animals subject to blackleg, or just cattle?

A: Principally young cattle between six months and two years of age. Goats and sheep are also susceptible, but other animals are apparently immune.

Q: What causes it?

A: Blackleg is caused by a spore-forming germ which can live in the ground for years. It may enter an animal's body through small cuts and punctures in the skin, or through grazing.

Q: How does blackleg act?

A: First symptoms are dullness and lameness. Victims develop a fever, lose appetite, show depression. Swelling caused by the disease have a crinkling, tissue-paper feeling if they are touched.

Q: How serious is blackleg?

A: It is usually fatal, though some infected calves may be saved if treatment is started in time.

Q: How can the disease be prevented?

A: All calves in blackleg areas should be vaccinated when three or four months old. In some areas, where "complicated" blackleg is a hazard, veterinarians may use a combined vaccine for best protection. Complicated blackleg is caused by two different germs.

Q: When is blackleg likely to occur?

A: The worst danger season is during the spring and summer months when cattle are on pasture. Farmers may wrongly blame blackleg losses on lightning or poisonous plants.

Q: What should be done with carcasses of animals which have died from blackleg?

A: They should be burned or buried deeply under lime to prevent the infection from spreading. NOTE—Due to space limitation, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

Answer to this week's Guess Who: A. E. "Tony" Alameda, Irvington.

HILLVIEW MAIL

action, but Hidalgo explained: "We have done everything in our power already. Maybe Centerville thinks we're asleep, but they (the Hillviewers) went right over our heads."

Meanwhile, Wallace Perry, Decoto School principal, disclosed he conferred Monday night with Hayward city councilmen, and was granted unofficial permission to hook the new Hillview Crest School water and sewer lines into the Hayward systems.

"We had no choice," Perry told a Register reporter. "Drilling a well is a gamble, and the cost of running sewer lines from Decoto is prohibitive."

Hillview Crest, when it was built more than a year ago, was tied into Hayward sewers and water lines at the builder's request. All that remains, Perry said, is to get permission to go through these lines from Biltmore Homes, owners of the tract. He hopes to get this within days from the company's headquarters in Los Angeles, Perry added.

(At the same time, he wants to ask Biltmore about its plans for another 600-home tract, Treeview, planned for early construction across the highway. This vitally affects the Decoto school system, Perry stressed.)

Hillviewers met Wednesday to raise money to hire a University of California expert in an attempt to see what sort of local government they ought to have. And last night they met again at Decoto School to thresh out future problems pertaining to their stay in Washington Township.

Other Hillview residents take much the same attitude as Germany does toward Russia and the United States.

They bought their homes a year or so ago on reported promises of city-style services, including home mail delivery. Now doors and windows stick, and the built-in TV sets shown in model homes have never been delivered. Complaints are lost in a maze of shifting financial structures.

Thus the Hillview householders are inclined to cast their lot with the team that has the most to offer. Says Peter L. Lojo, young attorney:

"Hayward says its going to run Southern Alameda County. These little towns to the south are just where they were 50 years ago.

"Why should we tie our wagon to a dead horse?"

This may or may not be typical of the 2400 residents of Hillview.

Meanwhile, however, anyone wishing to contact the subdivision dwellers by mail must write via Hayward.

CREDIT RESTRICTIONS OFF

This week the federal government relaxed its year-old curb on installment buying and home loans. No longer are large down-payments and heavy monthly installments required to buy items like cars and refrigerators. House loans will be easier to swing, too.

The move will prove a shot in the arm for trade and consumer industry, now suffering a slight attack of the droops. If Joe Workingman doesn't have to lay down his life insurance and tie up $100 a month to buy that '52 model, he will be a lot more likely to turn in the old '41. This helps the car dealer, the factory and the steel mill. It opens up jobs for folks who in turn buy more cars—and so on. The same applies in other fields.

Credit curbs on buying, home-building and the like were imposed after the K-War started. They were supposed to keep a lid on inflation. Maybe they did—the bureaucrats claim so anyway. But today it isn't inflation that bothers us—it's one of those occasional ebbs in the economic tide. Nobody is sorry to see credit restrictions go.

HILLVIEW'S MAIL AND WHAT'S AHEAD

The Hillview Crest mail controversy ought to interest everyone in Washington Township. Bitter over non-fulfillment of subdividers' reported promises, the Hillview residents took matters into their own hands. Now urban deliveries reward their energy and hard work. At the same time, however, the fact that Hillview mail now carries a Hayward address means Hillview has drawn that much farther from its logical civic and trading centers in the Township close-by.

Hillview residents are young and full of pep, and their participation in Township life would be a vitalizing factor in this area. It is too bad some of them feel their interests lie more with the settled areas to the North. Pioneering ought to suit Hillview like a six-bit sirloin. Hillview's charge that Washington Township lacks drive and potential, the Chamber of Commerce can counter with today's headline announcing another big Eastern industry for the area—an industry brought here by community effort exclusively.

Perhaps Hillview feels the Township hasn't paid it enough attention. Maybe so, although it seems only yesterday that Niles knocked itself out to make the crest-dwellers feel at home with a special "day." Maybe the "day" didn't stretch quite long enough. Maybe there ought to be another effort to draw the 608 homes closer to the Township—a continuing effort with official liaison established and mutual problems, discussed by the best representatives of the two agencies.

For Hillview, this would pay off, giving the populous tract a strong voice in local affairs, making the subdivision a bigger frog in this smaller puddle. For Washington Township, a solution of the Hillview problem would point the way to smoother solutions of similar and greater problems that an expanding South Bay Plain is bound to bring within a few short years.

STANLEY PLEDGES FLOOD ATTACK IN DECOTO SPEECH

A promise to continue working for flood control and water conservation was delivered to a group of his supporters in Decoto last week by Chester E. Stanley, incumbent supervisor, who is seeking his third term in the June 3 primary.

"I have given my full time to the office," Stanley declared, "and I will continue to be available to the public at the county offices around my district."

Stanley explained county pension provisions in response to queries. In addition to being vice-chairman of the Board of Supervisors, he currently is chairman of the Roads and Franchises committee and the Fairs and Expositions committee, and is the board member serving on the pension committee of the Alameda County Retirement Fund.

In his own case, Stanley said, if he were to be re-elected and chose to retire after 12 years' service, his pension would amount to about $80 per month.

All county employees, including elected officials, belong to and contribute to the state retirement system, and their size of their pensions depend directly on the size of their own contributions to the fund.

The supervisor closed his Decoto appearance with a pledge to continue working to solve local problems, including what he termed:

"... the most important—flood control and water conservation."

MODEL BUSTERS
WIN AT SALINAS

The Newark Modelbusters, local model-plaine hobbyists, are up in the clouds this week, literally and figuratively. And for a very good reason. They came home from the Fourth Annual U-Control Contest, held in Salinas last Sunday, with eight awards.

Jerry Gilliam of Newark, with a point score of 342, was the highest in the beginners' class and received the Dal Root trophy as the outstanding beginning flyer of the day. He also received a merchandise order as an additional prize.

Jerry will find further competition in future meets a little stiffer, however, for, with his impressive score of last Sunday, he was advanced from the beginners' to the advanced group.

Other Model Busters who covered themselves with glory at the Salinas meet were Jimmy Wood, winner of the first prize in the novice open; Clifford Andrus, with a second prize in the novice open and a second in the beginner class One-Half-A; Don Wood, second in the jet speed, fourth in the beginner class AB, and fourth in the beginner CD; and Patsy Scott, who won a motor as a special women's award in the novice class.

Other Model Busters competing included Louis Smith, Frank Adams, Gordon Kibby, Dolores Silva, Kenneth Andrus, and Richard and Lance Warren and Lovell Scott.

The local group was accompanied to Salinas by a large contingent of parents, friends and well-wishers. A large crowd of spectators, numbering over a thousand, witnessed the Salinas meet.

The next contest will be held in Martinez on May 18.

ONLY CHICKENPOX

Four cases of chickenpox were the only communicable diseases reported in Washington Township last week to Dr. James C. Malcolm, county health officer. Pleasanton has been undergoing a mild epidemic of chickenpox, the doctor's report showed, with 16 cases last week.

COUNTY FAIR HAS
$55,000 IN PRIZES

More than $55,000 in premium money will be at stake during the traditional Alameda County Fair at Pleasanton June 20 through July 5. Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, chairman of the Fairgrounds Committee, announced this week.

Exhibitors from throughout the Pacific Coast will vie for blue ribbons and premiums at the historic exposition, Stanley said.

This will be the highest premium list in the history of "California's First County Fair," Stanley added, and will be derived primarily from state pari-mutuel funds.

In some of the events, financial assistance will come from the Alameda County Agricultural Fair Association.

Premiums will be awarded in the livestock, poultry, home economics, floriculture, horticulture, agriculture, 4-H, Future Farmer, art and photography, veterans rehabilitation and other departments.

More than 2500 premium books will be mailed to potential exhibitors and copies will also be available by contacting Wray L. Bergstrom, secretary - manager, Alameda County Fair, Pleasanton.

Feature events of the opening major fair in California include 14 days of horse racing under direction of William P. Kyne and Sam J. Whiting, talent shows, a national horse show and a Centennial parade under auspices of the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

ALVARADO MOURNS
JOSEPH GOMES

Joseph Gomes, 83, retired Alvarado rancher, died here Tuesday. Funeral services were held yesterday in St. Anne's Church, Alvarado, and burial was in Holy Ghost Cemetery under the direction of Chapel of the Palms.

A native of Fayal, Azores Islands, Gomes was a member of IDES No. 2 of Alvarado, and a longtime resident of that community.

He leaves his widow, Mary, and five children: Manuel and Henry Gomes of Alvarado, Clarence Gomes of Centerville, Mrs. Cecelia Hesse and Mrs. Connie Maciel of Hayward, and Mrs. Philomena Rogers of Clear Lake.

NILES STUDENT TAPPED FOR S.J. STATE HONOR

Barney Philip Bragg, son of Mrs. Barney Bragg, 720 Second Street, Niles, recently became a member of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary commerce fraternity at San Jose State College.

Barney, who is a graduate student at the college, is working toward his general secondary credential in business education. He was graduated from Washington Union High School with the class of 1942. While at Washington, he was active in student government and sports.

ONCE THERE WERE 13 CANNONBALLS;
LAST ONE LIVES IN IRVINGTON

Once his ears echoed to the roars of the crowd through the muffle of his racing helmet. Now they reflect only the occasional rumble of a truck on the Irvington-Mission San Jose Road.

Friends and fellow Chamber of Commerce members in Irvington know the tall, lean balding man as Speed, or Cannonball. Small wonder.

Speed Baker's parents back east christened him Orville. It was more than a spirited lad could stand. By 1921, when he first started burning up the Midwest dirt tracks in a cut-down Model T racer, he switched to a more stirring cognomen.

"But after awhile there were 13 guys all calling themselves Cannonball Baker," sighs the Irvingtonian. "One of them weighed 270 pounds. I changed it to 'Speed' and had it copyrighted."

Baker takes an active vocal interest in civic affairs, and also conducts a wholesale tire business from the barn-warehouse on his 26-acre rancho.

He runs a tire business in Oakland and another in Los Angeles, but likes the climate and the life of Irvington where he moved last fall. As a youth, he recalls, he was inclined to be cocksure. A few smushups took that out of him, however. Nothing like them for teaching a man just where he stands.

"Then I learned to drive with this," Baker declared, pointing to his head, "instead of this" (his foot).

Baker never made the Big One—Indianapolis. Got busted up in the trials once or twice, he recalls. But there was plenty of money in the auto-racing game before he retired in 1939. Especially after 1933.

"We used to take in $70,000 some afternoons," the veteran lead-foot remembers. Baker did not drive his own cars, preferring to race other men's. If your car broke down, you were through, he explains, whereas if you hired out, there was always another mount—"like Arcaro or Longden," he says. Racing nowadays? Not like when we were crowding those Miller Specials, says Baker.

RED CROSS WILL ELECT TUESDAY

Election of officers and a general roundup of Red Cross workers in the township area will be held at a luncheon meeting at the International Kitchen next Tuesday, May 13, starting at 12 noon.

LeRoy Brown, acting chairman of the local Red Cross unit, will conduct the meeting. George Duncan, Oakland promotion executive, is slated to give a talk on the blood procurement program and Red Cross activities in the community, and a film, depicting scenes in the blood procurement program, is also scheduled for the luncheon program.

"We are anxious to have as many red cross workers as possible present at the meeting," stated Mrs. Allan Walton, chairman of Red Cross blood procurement of Washington Township, "not only to instill new enthusiasm in our Red Cross workers, but because at this time they will take the oath of allegiance and sign pledges, enabling them to avail themselves of Red Cross insurance."

The meeting is open to the general public. Reservations may be made by phoning the International Kitchen.

HOLY GHOST IN ALVARADO

Jo Ann Castro will be crowned as queen of the Holy Ghost Festival, to be held in Alvarado this Saturday and Sunday.

The program will start with a display of fireworks at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, followed by dancing in the S.D.E.S. Hall. Sunday at 10 a.m., a parade will begin at the hall and march to St. Ann's Church where high mass will be said at 11 a.m.

At noon, a free barbecue will be served at the S.D.E.S. Hall and the public is invited.

Attending the queen will be her maids, Marlene Pinto and Frances Alvarez. The little queen and her maids are Loretta Soares, Judith Quadros and Carol Andrade; and the baby queen, Jacqueline Soares, will be attended by Gail Crespin and Mary Lee Jimenez.

A family Civil Defense plan is a small premium to pay for protection during disaster.

BUSINESS GALS
INSTALL HERE

"We men have made a mess of it—you women must take over politics," Bruce Michael, Warm Springs farmer told the Washington Township Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night.

The club met in the International Kitchen to install officers for the coming year.

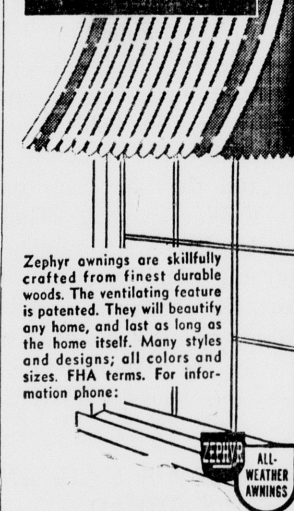

Leila Oliveria succeeded herself as president, Dorothy Czerny also was installed for another term as vice-president, while Rosaline Egan and Olive Howard were returned as recording secretary and corresponding secretary, respectively.

New officers seated included Ella Joliff, treasurer, and Janet Bruner, auditor.

Lillie Budde of Oakland, past president of the B.P.W.'s Bay District, acted as installing officer for committee chairman Gertrude Enos. Michael was introduced by Ann Mayock.

PASTURE EXHIBIT HERE TUESDAY

Increased feed production by reseeding pasture land to alfalfa and Harding grass will be shown on two ranches in the Mission San Jose-Warm Springs area on Tuesday, May 13, according to Walter Johnson, farm advisor.

The first demonstration, at 2 p.m., will be at the Bruce Michael ranch, at the junction of Brown Road and the Niles-San Jose highway. This is an excellent first-year seeding where several grasses are being compared as to their value for planting with alfalfa, Johnson says. In this seeding are Orchard grass, Harding grass, three strains of Tall Fescue, Prairie Brome, Rose clover, and alfalfa.

Following this will be a demonstration at the pioneer dry-land alfalfa seeding at John Coelho's at the junction of Durham Road and the Mission-San Jose highway.

Here there are 50 acres of five-year-old alfalfa. Feed production

OFFICERS INSTALLED

At the regular meeting of the Newark P.T.A. last Tuesday the officers for the coming term were installed. The installation officer presiding was Mrs. Gordon Peterson, third vice-president of Council District No. 16.

Mrs. Earl Willburn was installed as president for her second term. Also serving their second terms will be: Mrs. Willard Walker, first vice-president; Mr. Jack MacGregor, second vice-president; Mrs. Marty Sammon, secretary; Mrs. Robert Lloyd, auditor, and Mrs. John Kettman, parliamentarian. Those installed for their first term were: Mrs. George La-thum, treasurer, and Mrs. E. E. Lewallen, historian.

Mr. Jack MacGregor was presented with an honorary life membership in the P.T.A., highest honor offered by the P.T.A.

Sixteen members were awarded perfect attendance pins. Mrs. Peterson presented these awards to: Mrs. E. E. Lewallen, Mrs. Ernest Phippen, Mrs. James Robertson, Mrs. Marty Sammon, Mrs. E. J. Willburn, Mrs. James Collins, Miss Marjorie Callow, Mrs. Gladys Fahrner, Mrs. Ruth Flater, Mr. Jack MacGregor, Mrs. Lorraine Pohl, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, Mr. Paul Powers, Miss Mary Shea, Miss Ruth Underwood and Mr. Edward Maughn.

Mrs. John Kettman was presented with a past president's pin.

Following the meeting a program was given by members of the school glee club, verse choir, and folk-dance group. Mrs. Madeline Barch assisted and directed the children in these performances. Refreshments were then served.

NAMED DANNY DUANE

Danny Duane Croop was born Tuesday, April 30, in the San Jose Hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larue Croop. Danny weighed just a little over five pounds. His home is on Olive Street.

ATTENTION VOTERS

There is an Initiative Petition being circulated to all registered voters in our town by some of the local school teachers. This petition is sponsored by the California Teachers' Association. Its purpose is to submit an initiative measure directly to the electors at the next election which will concern the increase in state school funds. In 1946 the people of California voted in favor of state aid amounting to $120 per child. Everyone knows what inflation had done in his own household. Therefore, you should readily understand why the schools need an increase in state support. This amendment to the State Constitution would propose an increase from the $120-per-child allotment to $180 a year per child.

This proposed constitutional amendment to increase state financial support is vital to our schools. Let's get behind this movement and help our children by signing the petition. If you have not been contacted by anyone, stop at the Newark Elementary school and inform Mr. MacGregor or a member of the faculty that you wish to sign the petition. Do this before May 10.

SCOUT-O-RAMA TONIGHT

Several week ago the Newark Boy Scouts sold a large number of tickets to the Scout-O-Rama at the Municipal Auditorium in Oakland. These performances will begin tonight at 7:30.

MOTHER'S DAY BASKET

Sunday, May 11, after the 10 o'clock mass, the Confraternity of St. Ann will award the Mother's Day food basket. It is on display at the L and L Market. Proceeds from this project will go into St. Edward's Church fund.

RECEPTION AT PAVILION

The families of Wanda Silvera and Lenord Laudenslager held a reception in honor of the couple last Sunday. Miss Silvera became Mrs. Laudenslager at a ceremony in Reno two weeks ago.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD VISIT

Rev. and Mrs. John Peffers spent the week-end with friends in North Hollywood. Rev. Peffers was the guest preacher at a church in Arcadia. On their way down the Peffers stopped off to see Mr. and Mrs. Stan Freeman, former residents of Newark, in Mendota. Jacque, Kirk and Kathy Peffers stayed at the Freeman home while their parents traveled on to North Hollywood. They also visited Mr. Clyde Rogers, singer and movie actor. He was a school mate of Rev. Peffers in Illinois.

INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

Mr. A. T. Biddle, local real estate agent, was injured in an auto accident May 1. He is in the Alameda Hospital. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Helen Elaine Fontes was honored at a bridal shower last Saturday, given by Mrs. Gladys Rodriguez of Niles. Attending the shower, which lasted from two to six in the afternoon, were approximately 35 guests. The bride-to-be received many lovely gifts, ranging from a steam iron to a potato peeler. The guest of honor announced at the shower that her marriage to John Rodriguez would take place on June 14 at 2 p.m. in San Jose.

Mrs. Rodriguez served refreshments included a lovely cake inscribed, "Congratulations, Helen Elaine and Johnnie." Miss Fontes was attired for the occasion in a white linen suit with red accessories. She wore an orchid corsage, a gift from her fiancé.

FESTIVAL DATE ANNOUNCED

June 15 has been selected as the date for the annual St. John's Festival. It will be held at the Newark Pavilion. This celebration is sponsored by the Holy Names Society and the Confraternity of St. Ann of St. Edward's Church.

A picnic and barbecue will be featured attractions of the celebration. Plans of a more definite nature have not been disclosed as yet.

FIRST HOLY COMMUNION

At the 8:30 mass at St. Edward's Church this Sunday, 30 children will receive their first Holy Communion. Following the mass they will participate in a procession and the crowning of the Queen of May. These children have been instructed by the Sisters of the Holy Family.

VISITORS FROM LONG BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. John Shull are entertaining Mrs. Shull's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Powell, this week.

HONEYMOON IN CANADA

Following their marriage April 25 in San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Serga Kin (Gertrude Untiedt) left for a two-week trip to Canada. Gertrude was a member of the class of 1951 at Washington High School. She is now employed by Linda Ann Aircraft Products as a bookkeeper. Mr. Kin is a post office employee. Upon their return from Canada, a family reception will be held. The couple plan to make their home in San Francisco.

CENTERVILLE TO HAVE YOUTH DAY TOO

Centerville this week decided to follow Mission San Jose in giving its young men and women a chance to voice their opinions of civic affairs.

The Centerville Chamber of Commerce approved a resolution asking Washington Union High School to pick teen-agers who can speak out at a civic luncheon to be scheduled before June graduation.

The plan was urged by Gene Manning, who commented:

"I don't think we listen to our youngsters enough."

The Mission San Jose Chamber is sponsoring a Youth Night next Monday.

Centerville's president, Jack Coley, named Erle Hygelund as chairman of a committee to select outstanding events in Centerville's history for inclusion in a time-capsule to be buried in Hayward.

Joe Shepherd, safety committee-man, reported county crews have finished painting Centerville curbs and crosswalks.

Pike's Peak in Colorado is 14,109 feet above sea level.

LT. DUTRA AT NAVY SCHOOL IN DEL MONTE

Lt. John E. Dutra, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dutra of Centerville, is at the Navy's General Line School, Monterey.

A graduate of Washington Union High School and a veteran of World War II, Lieutenant Dutra was formerly in command of the Minesweeper USS Bunting, based at Pearl Harbor.

Before enlisting in the Navy, he attended San Mateo Junior College and was graduated from the Reserve Midshipman School in New York.

GUEST SPEAKER AT BEGONIA MEETING

Louis Le Valley, instructor of horticulture at Laney Trade Technical Institute in Oakland, will be guest speaker at a May 15 meeting of Southern Alameda County Branch of the American Begonia Society, at 8 p.m., in the Hayward high school cafeteria.

All persons interested are invited to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

NEWARK MAN IS HONORED BY LODGE

Charles Cockfair, a resident of Newark for many years, was honored at a dinner Wednesday night by his fellow members of Alameda Lodge, Order of Masons, commemorating his fifty years as a member of the lodge.

Cockfair, retired from the James Graham plant in Newark, now known as the Rheem Manufacturing Company, is the third member of the local lodge to receive the 50-year pin. The other two are Art Biddle and Henry Patterson, who received their awards last year.

Another member, Henry Jackson, was also to have been honored Wednesday night as a 50-year member, but is not in the locality at the present time.

In charge of the ceremony honoring Cockfair was Carl LaVoe of Hayward, inspector for the district.

WILLIAM METTE TO HEAD LIONS CLUB

William Mette of Centerville has been nominated as president of the Lions Club, succeeding Leroy Brown, retiring president.

The election will be held at the regular meeting next Tuesday evening. Installation of officers will take place in June.

Other new officers are as follows: Art Belshaw, first vice-president; Val Tuchsien, second vice-president; James Logan, third vice-president; Erle Hygelund, secretary-treasurer; Clarence LeCount, Lion Tamer, and Joe Shepherd, tail-twister.

New directors are: Jack Coley, Ralph Goodwin and William Bauhofer.

ILLNESS FORCES CHANGE IN SCOUTING PERSONNEL

Because of the illness of Mrs. J. V. Orsetti, Washington Township Girl Scout district representative, inquiries concerning Scouting should hereafter be directed to Mrs. Manuel Dutra, Niles, or Mrs. Leland Silva, Centerville.

Reservations for the recognition dinner, to be held on May 28, should also be made with either of these two women.

RED CROSS DRIVE ENDS WITH NET RECEIPTS OF $4282

The 1952 Red Cross campaign for Washington Township ended this week with $4,281—or 61 per cent—of the goal collected.

This announcement came today from Mrs. Ann Mayock of Mission San Jose, volunteer fund chairman.

"In spite of the disaster aid rendered the Alvarado area during the recent floods and the last minute efforts toward collections by my co-workers," Mrs. Mayock said, "Washington Township fell short of its quota. However, with continued services being rendered to the community in the coming Swim-to-Live program handled by Red Cross certified teachers at the Hayward Pool for township children; and the many classes now available in home nursing and first aid, people of the area may become more aware of the value of the organization's programs."

The burden imposed on the Red Cross by midwest floods this spring has made it necessary to request additional assistance from the public at large, she added, and contributions will be accepted at any time during the year to help in this work.

Closing the drive, Mrs. Mayock expressed her appreciation of the work done by volunteer solicitors, who gave generously of their time in making the local drive possible. Final town committees were:

Newark: Mrs. Ruth Dutra, Mrs. Ora Rober, Mrs. Ann Gunn, Mrs. Vera M. Taylor, Mrs. Laura Frangula, Mrs. E. E. Lewallen, Mrs. Donald Dias, Mrs. Lillian Lloyd, Mrs. Millie Foster and Ray Truscott.

Warm Springs: Mrs. Theresa Sacramento and Mrs. John Souza.
Mission San Jose: Mrs. Lois Bottenberg and Mrs. Hortense Cunha.

Centerville: E. B. Hodges, Loren Marriott and Mrs. Evelyn Perkins.
Niles: Mrs. Ruth Robbins, Mrs. Marian Prouty, Loren Godwin, Manuel Caldeira and Harriet Dias.

Irrington: Mrs. Nila Connolly, Mrs. May Legro, Wallace Pond and Carl Christensen.

Alvarado: Mrs. A. B. Hill and Walter Oakley.

Decoto: Mrs. Marian Zwissig, Mrs. Cecelia Navas, Mrs. Isabel Escalona, Mrs. Gallo Gonzales, Mrs. Florence Wallace, Mrs. Elvie Cardoza, Mrs. Hazel Costa and Mrs. B. R. Joseph.

"An expression of appreciation is due local industry for generous donations, and special thanks goes to the local firms who conducted plant collections and made contributions from company funds to match the amount collected from employees: Kraftite Company, California Pottery Company and Kimber Poultry Farm," Mrs. Mayock declared.

Members of the Gray Ladies, Nurses Aides and Red Cross Motor Corps volunteers took contributions in the local banks during the drive and are now back at their regular services of assisting and the routine duties performed the Livermore Veterans Hospital throughout the year in the area. They include Mrs. Sophie Quarantoli, Mrs. Emily Fields, Mrs. Marian McGowan, Mrs. Betty Brown, Lucille Day, Anne Rose, Joey Whipple, Janet Granger, Irene Kibby and Justine Adams.

On Navy Carrier

Serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Antietam is John L. Garcia, aviation machinist's mate, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Garcia of Keane Avenue, Niles.

Garcia entered the Naval service October 3, 1950, and received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego. Before entering the Navy he attended Washington Union High School.

The Antietam is serving with Carrier Task Force 77 in Korean waters. She was first commissioned in 1945, and brought out of mothballs in January, 1951.

VISITORS INVITED TO SANATORIUM

In observance of National Hospital Day next Monday, May 12, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Enos are extending an invitation to the public to visit the Mission Road Sanatorium, located on the Niles-Mission Highway.

The visiting hours are from two to four in the afternoon, and from seven to eight in the evening.

PALSY FIGHTERS FORM LOCALLY

With their attention focused on the suffering of more than 500,000 American victims of cerebral palsy, a group of Washington Township citizens have organized a campaign committee to aid the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Alameda County.

Co-chairmen of the township committee are Mr. and Mrs. George H. Oakes. Other members are: John Brahmst, Niles; Henry Grundbrecker, chairman, and Joseph Seoane, Decoto.

Mrs. Allan Hirsch, chairman, and Mrs. Edward L. Rose, Irvington; Mrs. J. Koelsch, Mission San Jose; G. C. Craig, Warm Springs; Mrs. John Stevenson, Centerville; Mrs. Grace Hodges, chairman, and Mrs. Lillian Costa, Newark; Walter Oakley, chairman, Warren Silva, Mrs. Feliz Diangson and Mrs. Olive Orsetti, Alvarado.

Here I am, writing the column again, and working on The Register.

I suppose I could be compared with an old horse that keeps coming back to the same old barn, even after the owners have sold the barn and moved away.

There is one funny thing about this, though. I am no longer "the boss." I keep forgetting I'm now one of Uncle Sam's Social Security numbers, and I give orders around just like the old days. Mr. Nixon, the new owner, looks at me funny, like maybe he is thinking "Who do you think you are?" but he is a nice man, and doesn't say anything.

Yes, things are different. I'm even getting a salary now!

NILES DAY

Anyone who heard Ed Enos at the "Niles Day" program at the Old Hearst Ranch last Sunday (it will be broadcast this coming Sunday) is sure to think that he made a mistake by not becoming a press agent or publicity man.

Nobody—absolutely nobody—has ever given Niles such a boost as Mr. Enos did over the air last Sunday. After listening to him, if you don't already live in Niles, nothing will stop you from coming here—even if you have to ride the rods to do it.

If I ever want to sell anything, I will get Mr. Enos to handle it. BETTER THAN MINK

I want to say "thank you" to all of the people who took my rototilling problem to heart.

I know enough about rototillers now to go out and get a job running one.

My weeds are gone, and I can see the good earth again. I can also see the sky again. Thank you, you wonderful people who make rototillers and English hoes. I had no idea until recently what a large part a farm implement can play in a person's happiness. I would rather have one than a mink coat.

BELLARINE 10, W. U. H. S. 2, TRUE!

Washington baseballers made it five straight losses at the hands of Bellarmine this week as the Bells overwhelmed the locals 10 to 2 on the Bell diamond.

The Huskies started the non-league game like they were going to be tough to beat. They tallied one run in the first frame when Sam Ramirez and Ken Teague each collected singles. Ed Romero, who started on the mound for the Huskies, looked fine in the first two frames but the Bells got to him for nine runs in the third. Bob Hird threw the last two for the Huskies.

The Huskies collected only three hits while the Bells banged out eight.

Ed King rapped out a double for the Huskies in the sixth to bring in the second home town run.

HUSKIES SWAMP LINCOLN NINE, 23 TO 6

Playing as though it were football season, the Washington Huskies overwhelmed the Lincoln Lions 23 to 6 in a practice tilt last week on the Lion diamond.

The game was called at the end of the sixth inning.

The Huskies pounded five Lion pitchers for 13 hits and were aided by 13 walks and six errors.

Washington tallied 12 runs in the sixth frame and six hits. Tony Nieves, Raul Orozco, Ernie Delgado and Bob Lundford each collected two hits apiece. Nieves rapped out a long 2-bagger in the big sixth. Delgado drove in four runs and Ed King poled out a four-bagger in the third with no one on base. King scored five times during the contest.

Bob Lunsford was the winning hurler for the Huskies. The Lions got to him for three runs in the first frame but he settled down and held them in check after that.

LICK TRIPS VARSITY TRACKMEN; TOWNSHIP BEES SALVAGE WIN

By BOB HIRD

Led by Aki Nakatani and Phil Warner, the James Lick Comets rolled to a 81 to 40 victory over the Washington varsity in a dual meet on the Husky track last Friday.

The Washington B's salvaged their division, winning their first meet of the year, 65 to 54.

Ralph McElroy, Husky ace B cinderman, took firsts in the high and low hurdles and the hop-step-and-jump.

James Lick swept the C and D division, winning 64 1/3 to 23 2/3 and 73 1/2 to 23 1/2, respectively. Nakatani took the broad jump and high jump while Warren gained firsts in the 120 high hurdles and the 440.

Marty Sammon paced the Husky varsity as he gained firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Ken Kirby, the Comets' prize high jumper, who has cleared six feet this year, retired at 5 feet 5 inches because of an injured heel.

Varsity summary:

CHASE, SPRINT NETS YOUNG SUSPECTS

Two township deputy sheriffs climaxed an 80-mile-an-hour chase with an uphill sprint Monday to nab a pair of suspected juvenile car thieves and burglars.

The chase and run took place in the hills west of Prune Avenue, between Mission San Jose and Warm Springs.

Deputies Henry Vervais and Everett King joined the chase when Highway Patrolman Loren Mattison, acting on suspicion, lit out after the speeding car near Mission San Jose.

The youths, one from Newark and one from Sunnyvale, and both aged 17, abandoned the car on Prune Avenue and ran into a field of hay atop a nearby knoll. While other officers ringed the area, Vervais and King dashed up the hillside into the hay and collared the youths without a struggle. They were turned over to juvenile authorities.

King said the boys are implicated in (1) a recent San Leandro burglary, and (2) thefts of clothing and valuables last Sunday from parked cars belonging to Mary L. Abreu and J. F. Pereira of Mission San Jose. Some of the valuables were recovered, King added. He said the car which the boys were driving bears an obliterated motor number, and will be checked further as a stolen vehicle.

FEAR MARTINEZ OUT FOR SEASON,

By STUART NIXON

Jess Martinez, lithe star of the Washington High track aggregation, probably has leaped his last for the Orange and Black. Martinez, hailed as the school's greatest-ever broad jumper, bruised a heel two weeks ago winning his specialty against Fremont.

This week Martinez still was on crutches and Coaches Irving Hird and Jud Taylor agreed it is doubtful he will compete again this year.

The senior athlete had been counted on for a cinch first-place in the SCVAL meet. Martinez' mark of 21-8 feet tops all other league hopefuls. He won the Class B jump last year, and also has been consistently victorious in hop-step-and-jump events.

Club Presidents Honored Tuesday

Mrs. Anna Bradford was installed as president of the Country Club last Tuesday, at an impressive ceremony conducted by Mrs. Franklin Brown, installing officer. Mrs. Bradford succeeds Mrs. A. E. Alameda, club president for two years.

In Mrs. Alameda's honor, Mrs. Walter Connolly of Irvington was hostess at a luncheon for the officers, held just prior to the installation ceremony at the club house. At the luncheon Mrs. Alameda was presented with a beautiful compact as a token of appreciation for her work as club president.

After the installation, a tea for new members and officers concluded the afternoon, the tea being arranged by members of the Hobby Section of the club.

Unusual Guest at Arts Section Meeting

The Arts Appreciation section of the Country Club has had many interesting guests since it was organized. None, however, as interesting as the guest scheduled to make an appearance at the next meeting on May 28.

This guest, unlike every other the section has entertained, is not human. He is a dog, a seeing-eye dog owned by Mrs. Pat Prevtz, member of the Berkeley Blind Women's Club.

Mrs. Prevtz will put the dog through his paces, so to speak, and in addition will have on display handicraft articles made by the blind.

Because of the nature of the program, the section will hold this meeting at the club house, rather than have it in a member's home. Each member of the section will be permitted to invite three guests. Either Mrs. C. N. Myrick or Mrs. Joe Svoboda should be notified not later than Monday, May 26, by those who plan on bringing guests.

The meeting starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Assigned to Coast

Mrs. Antoinette Fracoli of Niles is receiving the nicest Mother's Day gift of all: Uncle Sam is sending her son, Vic, back to the West Coast rather than to some far off battlefield.

Vic, who was just graduated from the finance school at Ft. Benjamin Harris, Indiana, after a four months' stint, has been assigned to the government industrial auditing office in San Francisco. He and his wife have taken an apartment on MacArthur Boulevard in Oakland.

At Rotary Conference

Attending the Rotary District Conference in Richmond, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, were Mr. Pete Juhl, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nicklasson, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dennis.

Mr. Juhl is the present president of the Niles Rotary Club, Mr. Dennis the president-elect, and Mr. Nicklasson, the secretary-elect.

Lorraine Luchetti Wins Nurses' Award

Miss Lorraine Luchetti, foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jed Oxborrow of Niles, has been awarded the nurses' scholarship fund contributed annually by the Hobby Section of the Country Club.

The announcement was made this week after a committee comprised of Mrs. Howard Overacker, Mrs. E. M. Grimmer Jr. and Mrs. C. N. Myrick had reached a decision.

Miss Luchetti, now training at Highland Hospital, is a graduate of Washington Union High Evening School, class of 1950. The $75 awarded her will be used to help defray expenses of her training.

Trip to Reno

The elementary school music festival is still being discussed, and memories of it linger in the minds of all of those who enjoyed it last Thursday. Bernard Callery, elementary school musical director, wanted to "get away from it all," however, so he and Mrs. Callery took off for a jaunt in Reno last week-end. "The festival went off fine, and I have no complaints, but I just wanted to get away and forget about it," said the musical director.

Home from Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belshaw of Centerville returned home from their trip to Phoenix, Arizona, with glowing reports, not only of the scenery (they took in the Grand Canyon enroute) but of Mr. Belshaw's winning of 56th place in production, in competition with 11,000 other Metropolitan Life Insurance men in the seven western states. The news of his award was released at the Phoenix convention.

Dinner Guests

A dinner party, featuring Italian dishes Mrs. Van Scoy has recently learned to prepare, was given last Saturday night by the Edgar Van Scoys of Centerville. The guests included the Ken Fosters, Clark Redekers, and Vernon Browns. The consensus was that Mrs. Van Scoy's spaghetti sauce, and chicken and mushrooms, were "tops."

Visiting the Duffeys

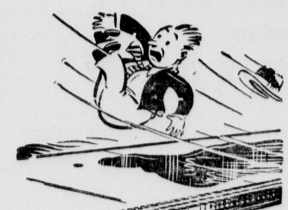

Mrs. Gladys Duffey, former Niles resident, is expected to arrive here tomorrow (Saturday) for several days visit with the Mel Duffeys. She and her husband are now living in LaHabra.

HEARING TESTS FOR IRVINGTON CHILDREN

Hearing tests for Irvington Elementary School children were conducted this week for 200 children. Mrs. Olive M. Price of the County Health Department was in charge, assisted by six mothers from the Irvington P.T.A.

Dinner Party for Members of Staff

Mrs. Anna Bradford, district deputy president of District 53, Rebekah Lodge, was hostess at a dinner party last Wednesday in honor of her staff and drill team.

Those who enjoyed the ham dinner, and card games afterwards, included Mmes. Iva Marble, Fern Mitte, Justine Adams, Ann Arrington, Elsa Mikkelsen, Edna Hescher, Lillian Short, Nellie Talley, Grace Reinking, Celia Laybourne, Cecelia Caldwell, Irma Belding, Anna Fields, Elizabeth Mendenhall, Minnie Clay, Anna Van Buskirk, Virginia Yarbrough, Ailene Smith, Sylvia Lammi, Pat Pierce, Ferrell Pugmire, Ivy Cull and Corabell Reader.

Unable to attend were Agnes White, Irma Wright, Florence Anderson, Gladys Hindmarsh, Clara Williams, Maude Siler and Rose Stearns.

CRANES SELL OUT AFTER 20 YEARS

In April, 1932, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crane opened their garage business in Niles.

Now, in May, just 20 years later, they are selling that business. The new owner, Vernon Edgren of Pleasanton, took over the garage this week.

The Cranes have been active in civic affairs in the many years they have spent in Niles. Crane, a member of the Niles fire department for 26 years closed his career in the department as chief. He has also been active in the Niles Rotary Club.

Mrs. Crane was organist at Corpus Christi Church in Niles for 26 years. She is also past grand director of the Young Ladies Institute, past president of De Guadalupe, Y.L.I., past president of Laura Loma Parlor, N.D.G.W., and a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The Cranes have made no plans for the immediate future except to "take a good long rest."

Edgren comes from an automobile family. His brother, Lloyd, has the Chrysler-Plymouth agency in Centerville; another brother, John, has the Chrysler-Plymouth agency in Pleasanton; and he himself will take over the Chrysler-DeSoto franchise from the Cranes. He and his wife and three children, now living in Pleasanton, expect to make their home in Niles.

There's truth in the old bromide that it's a small world. What with plans for an international TV link with Cuba and Mexico out of the dream stage and into reality... we're really getting "next door to the world." Negotiations have been completed... and the forthcoming link between New York and Miami will be extended to Cuba within the next year.

What does this mean to TV viewers? It means "on-hand" viewing of events in other countries. It means a closer kinship with other peoples... a bigger and better understanding of world problems. It's going to bring us to the realization that even though customs and cultures are different, people are the same the world over. They have the same needs and wants... the same color of blood... the same need for peace and freedom. A television set in your living room is your eye to the world. It's a necessity these days.

When you want television with clear, sharp pictures, with never-fail vision, you want Hoffman... the quality television with the golden lens. You can see it today and you can depend on our expert technicians for your installation and service. So come in soon. We're always glad to see you at

ANYONE HAVE A BARBER POLE?

Wanted: one barber pole.

If anyone has a barber pole he can spare, the members of the barber-shop quartet, planning to do some numbers for the Newark Carnival and Bazaar next Saturday night, May 17, would be very happy to hear about it. Ken Foster of Newark is the man to contact on the barber pole deal.

Members of the quartet are Mrs. Betty Peppers (that's right, MRS. Peppers), Larue Croop, Avery Grace and Carl Pierce.

Other entertainment will include selections by the Swiss orchestra, and piano solos by Fred Costa.

These acts are only a few in the program being directed by Mrs. Gayle Stepp.

The sets are being drawn by Mrs. Shyrley Rice, assisted by Marjorie Callow and Ed Walters.

SPRING ROUND-UP FOR IRVINGTON KIDDIES

A spring round-up of Irvington pre-school children who plan to enter kindergarten next fall (they must be four years and nine months by September) will be held at the school Thursday, May 15, at 9 a.m.

A parent-teacher conference will follow the registration.

The Irvington P.T.A. is sponsoring the round-up.

IRVINGTON: NO BOOTH STAND

Irvington will send an uninstructed delegation to the May 21 session of the Township Chamber of Commerce to vote on whether to share in a Township exhibit at the 1952 Alameda County Fair.

This was decided Tuesday at a meeting of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce. Niles and Centerville already have voted to share in the joint Township booth. But Orville "Speed" Baker pointed out:

"The County's Associated Chambers will have a big booth with each community getting one day. Irvington, which would pay only about $25 for its share of this booth, would get a full day there — just like Oakland."

At the urging of Baker and Wallace Pond, the local delegates will be uninstructed on this point, it was agreed.

A. B. HILL DIES ON FRESNO TRIP

A heart attack suffered while hunting east of Fresno last Saturday proved fatal to Alexander Blaky Hill, 55, retired Alvarado attorney.

Private funeral services for Hill were held Tuesday in Chapel of the Palms, Centerville.

A resident of Alvarado for several years, Hill leaves his widow, Dorothy; a daughter, Mrs. Julia Decker of Paicines, near Hollister, and two grandchildren.

We must take all practical measures to protect our industrial capacity — through an adequate Civil Defense.

NILES ROTARY TO GUIDE STUDENTS IN CAREERS

Grownup advice about youthful careers will be dished out on the spot by experts Wednesday when 120 graduates-to-be from Washington Union High School go on a tour conducted by the Niles Rotary Club.

Rotarian businessmen will play host to the senior students, who have picked more than a score of professions they wish to follow. As far as possible, says Dr. W. F. Lamoreux, chairman of the Rotary Youth Service Committee, the youngsters will be taken to local offices, plans and stores where — for part of a day — they may learn more about the job they like.

Irving Hird, of the high school school faculty, will be in charge of the student-counseling service which is tied into the program.

Rotarians who are members of the Niles club represent more than 50 fields of endeavor, Dr. Lamoreux explains. The "tours" will start at 2 p.m.

According to Hird, the students already have listed such desired occupations as:

Truck driving, cattle breeding, airline hostess, modeling, military service, radio, television, aeronautical mechanics, agriculture, drafting, telephone operator, beautician, lab technician, accountant, nurse, window decorating, office work, and business administration.

Do any of the students want to take up school teaching? Not in the answers received to date, says Hird.

Maybe they just want a day away from school.

MRS. DE LA CRUZ APPEARS MAY 16

Next Friday has been set for the first court appearance of Nellie de la Cruz, Alvarado cafe proprietor, who is charged with theft from a corpse.

Mrs. de la Cruz was arrested May 1 and accused of filching $5 from the body of Mae Anchita, 54, who had been brought to her establishment dying of a heart attack.

Mrs. de la Cruz is free on $250 bail and will appear before Judge Allen Norris. The body of Mrs. Anchita, who lived in Decoto, was sent to Dallas, Texas, early this week by Chapel of the Palms.

The dead woman leaves a sister, Mrs. Pearl Reece, in Visalia; and her mother, Mrs. Belle Mattingly, in Dallas.

Keeping the under surface of the fenders free from mud, grease, and the like is a money saver. The car owner who prefers to ignore this part of the automobile sooner or later will have his attention called to it by the fact that rust

CAR CRASH HURTS NEWARK MAN

Arthur T. Biddle, 76, of Newark, retired deputy county tax collector, was critically injured last Friday in a two-car collision at Central and Blacow Roads.

Biddle's car was involved in an intersection crash with one driven by Ralph A. Alexander, salt company employee, 235 San Jose Avenue, Irvington. Alexander escaped injury.

Biddle was taken to Alameda Hospital, where his condition was listed today as critical by his physician, Dr. J. M. Buehler. Dr. Buehler said Biddle suffered severe chest and internal hurts, and has been placed in an oxygen tent.

Highway patrolmen cited Biddle for failure to observe a stop sign. Alexander was not cited.

VIVES ORDEAL
Eats Grass for Week

By STUART NIXON

Today hailed as "a miracle" the survival of 74-year-old Thompson, Mission San Jose man who lived for a week on hay after collapsing in a hayfield two miles from his home.

Thompson, object of a 7-day search by sheriff's deputies, Boy Scouts and half the population of Mission San Jose, was found yesterday at 3:45 p.m.

The aged man, a former circus trick-bicycle rider, was discovered unconscious in a field off the Mission-Irvington Road by Albert Perry of Irvington, who was cutting hay.

Sgt. William H. Hildebrand, summoned to the scene with other officers, said Thompson "looked bad" and was removed to Fairmont Hospital on a stretcher.

Late yesterday however, hospital attaches reported Thompson was conscious and receiving intravenous nourishment—the first in a week. They described his condition as "poor."

But at the hospital, Thompson's wife, Ellen—his former circus partner—told a Register reporter: "He talked to me! He knew me."

"He said he just walked away and fell down in the field. I asked him how he kept alive and he said: 'Ellen—I ate grass.' 'It's a miracle—that's what it is!'"

Mrs. Thompson said her husband "is a sight for sore eyes," even though he appears to be "blistered, bitten and scratched by bushes."

Thompson first was reported missing at 8 p.m. last Friday. At that time, it became known that he is "Aerial" Robert Thompson, whose high-wire stunts thrilled world-wide audiences a generation ago.

Thompson, said to be suffering from a heart ailment and to be "confused" mentally, wandered away from the home he and his wife have occupied here for several years.

"I'm going to work," Mrs. Thompson said he told her. Within minutes the aged man had disappeared in the direction of the highway. He was not seen again until yesterday.

Numerous sheriff's deputies aided by neighbors and Irvington Boy Scouts, combed the area west of the town for hours last week-end and again during the week without finding a trace of Thompson.

Thompson's career spanned 30 years during which he rode his bicycle on circus highwires throughout this country, Europe and Asia. Mrs. Thompson assisted in the act, perching below the bicycle on a bar. Thompson walked a wire stretched between masts of the Battleship California in San Francisco Bay in 1921, performed atop the Hotel St. Francis, and was a regular attraction at Neptune Beach.

Local merchants are warned to be on the lookout for Walter Demeter, about 40, California's most notorious bad-check artist, who last week reportedly victimized a businessman here with a $75 draft.

Sheriff's Capt. Richard Condon said Demeter, tall and heavy set, passed the check by forging the signature of a well-known township man, then representing it as a payroll check.

Demeter—who has a spectacular prison record and a hundred aliases—has been sought by police throughout California for several years.

In 1921 he became interested in the area around Centerville, and in 1925 he took over the old Chadbourne ranch, holding it until 1938.

It was his plant in Centerville which was first in this area to operate a certain kind of process to make safer the product he sells (if we told you what the product is, it would be a dead give-away).

In 1947, he and his wife took a trip back to their native land, Switzerland. "It took us 44 years to save the money," he laughed.

He has never regretted coming to this country, and is very proud to see Washington Township grow as it has.

TAKEN BY DEATH

Lupe Eleazarraz, 14, who would have received her diploma at graduation exercises from the Niles Elementary School in June, died Wednesday at Children's Hospital following an operation.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anacleto Eleazarraz of Niles, she is survived by twelve brothers and sisters.

This is the appeal that will be made to Washington Township by the American Legion Auxiliary on Poppy Days, May 23 and 24, says Mrs. Bette Pool, poppy chairman of Unit No. 195 of the Auxiliary.

Women of the Auxiliary will be on the streets throughout both days, offering the symbolic memorial poppies and receiving contributions for the Auxiliary.

TOWNSHIP VOTES ON SCHOOL BONDS, TRUSTEES TODAY

Ten school district elections will be held in Washington Township today, including one on a $100,000 bond issue and another pitting a veteran trustee against a young newcomer.

The $100,000 bond election as Mission San Jose is paired with a vote to continue the extra 50-cent tax rate in that district.

In Decoto, Manuel White, clerk of the board of trustees since 1943, faces the township's sole opposing candidate in the person of Frank Kowalewski, who lives in Hillview Crest.

Trustees also are to be named in the other seven elementary schools they will start construction as soon as the present Bay Area carpenter's strike ends. They added they hope to employ 60 local men as soon as the plant is finished—presumably next January.

The plant will be built of concrete, glass and corrugated Transite, and will be handled by a San Francisco contractor. It will be located on Blacow Road near Central.

school districts and for Washington Union High School, with polls closing either at 6 or 7 p.m.

Only about 300 voters are eligible to ballot in Mission San Jose. Trustee Michael Overacker explains the $100,000 issue is needed to insure that Mission San Jose will continue as an independent district.

The district now has no bonded indebtedness, and can fit its 100 pupils fairly comfortably into the present school. However, Overacker stresses, the coming of new subdivisions makes it imperative that the district keep ahead in its baseball park during the 1952 season. It is not necessary to use the ticket during May.

financing. No immediate construction is planned.

The second proposal on the Mission ballot would retain the 50-cent special operating tax placed atop the regular 80-cent levy five years ago. If passed, it would enable the trustees to keep it without further elections. The tax needs only a majority to win, but the bonds require a two-thirds vote to succeed.

At Alvarado, one incumbent, G. H. Hocking, retired from the school board and his place is to be filled without contest by Warren Silva, president of the local Chamber of Commerce.

LAKE COUNTY

Little-Known, Enchanting
Playground in California's Great Redwood Empire

By JACK BRADFORD

Of the some ten million inhabitants of California, I'll venture to guess not one in ten has ever seen Lake County. Yet this off-the-main-beaten-path section of California's famed Redwood Empire is only a hundred miles from the San Francisco bay area and less than three hours' easy driving over good roads from either San Francisco, Oakland or Sacramento.

The little woman and I trundled up there about a month ago in our Model A convertible. Not knowing what to expect in the way of outdoor enchantment, we lacked the necessary gear for fishing. It was a little cool for swimming. We could have boated to our heart's content and did push a row boat around for an hour or so. But Lake County, it was glorious.

LOWER LAKE

A trip from Oakland via the picturesque early California towns of Vallejo, Napa and Calistoga, brought us into the little village of Lower Lake. We stopped by to see the White brothers, Leo and Carol, who publish the Clearlake Observer in one of the prettiest and most convenient newspaper plants we've seen in all our journeys about California. The brothers built the building themselves and have built a very interesting newspaper which circulates all through Lake County, reaching about three miles we came into the thickly populated lakeside resort area between Clearlake Highlands and Clearlake Park. From literally hundreds of cabin centers we picked one with a cabin perched on stilts over the edge of Clear Lake. From our front window we saw the sun set over the lake with Mt. Konociti, guardian of the lake, in the distance, a really inspiring experience.

BLACK BASS

In our short stay in Lake County we learned, among other things, Clear Lake is home of the famous black bass, aristocrat of the game fish. They are taken on plugs or by trolling. The season never closes for bass.

A month ago the red bud were in full bloom. The pear trees were in blossom and you could get enchanting vistas of the lakeside framed with redbud and pear blossoms and with great carpets of golden wildflowers down to the water edge.

WARM DAYS, COOL NIGHTS

With the heavy rainfall season, Clear Lake is full to overflowing this year. Aside from its fascinating and multitudinous resorts, Lake County is a prime agricultural area, with thousands of acres of pears, almonds, walnuts and prunes. Cattle and sheep raising are big and profitable businesses.

BIGGEST BODY OF WATER entirely within California boundaries is Clear Lake in the Redwood Empire. Scores of resorts accommodate tourists in this magnetic area where they enjoy swimming, fishing, boating, hunting, horseback riding and other forms of recreation. This lake and the Blue Lakes are easily reached by the Empire's $200,000,000 all-year hard-surfaced highway system that interlaces all parts of the vast and beautiful region.

Clear Lake is 1350 feet above sea level. Its warm, sunny summer days, ideal for outdoor sports, are tempered by cool nights. Rainfall is almost unknown from May to October and rainfall averages 30 inches during the balance of the year.

Lake County is wonderful hunting country, home of the black-tail deer and the habitation for dove, quail, pheasants and hundreds of wildlife species.

BOAT RACES

Regattas and boat races, water skiing and all form of water sports attract the amphibious during the summer months.

Some of the finest mountain resorts are in the mountain sections of the county, including Hoberg's, which maintains its own airport and is a favorite vacation spot for Northern Californians. In the mountain area are also many fine hot spring resorts, such as Siegler's Hot Spring and Howard Hot Springs.

We saw Lake County briefly in one of the most beautiful seasons of the year, but we want to go back in the "fun" season, the summer, when this delightful California playground is the habitat of thousands of fun-loving Californians.

VACATION LINES

By JIM VENTO

Spring is really a busy time for owners of resorts in Lake County. The visitor to this beautiful summertime vacationland sees carpenters, plasterers, painters and brick layers working feverishly to get the resorts in tip top shape for guests who are already arriving at the various resorts from Lower Lake to Lakeport.

Hank Roppolo, for five years the general manager of the Topaz Room in Santa Rosa, is the new owner of the Silver Log Resort in Clearlake Park. . . . Busiest young man in the area is young Don Emerson, owner of the Forest Lake Resort, who also is president of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce.

Frank Hoberg, who with his

Albert Wilson Talks About

Tree Wistaria

Editor's Note: Be Sure to Read to the Last Paragraph. Mr. Wilson Makes You a Fascinating Offer.

ALBERT WILSON

Lecturer, Author: "How Does Your Garden Grow?" Etc.

The Tree Wistaria, is it a true wistaria? People have been sending me seeds in quantity, and strangely they have acted in concert from Santa Cruz, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, and San Diego. They have sent me the same kind. Now I have a quart jar full and they are genuinely interesting. I'll tell you why.

They look like small navy beans, but their color is mocha and they shine with almost a metallic luster. Moreover they offer a resistance to the world with almost metallic strength. Now here is the first point of interest. When they are planted the coat is so tough that the germ has great trouble in coming out to greet the world. Therefore when you plant them if you do, you lend a hand.

SAND PAPER COAT

To put it briefly you may either sand paper the coat till it's thin, or two, you may douse with scalding water, and let it soak and cool off over night. Then plant in the soil. Or third, let boil six minutes by watch; take off stove, let water cool and leave for two days to soak. Then plant. Germination usually is within 30 days.

Of course if you want to follow the scientific method, you will plant some of your seeds right out in the accustomed way.

TOUGHER SEEDS

These methods which you see vary in severity are according to the experience of various authorities including the Brooklyn and Santa Barbara Botanic Gardens. Which is generally best, I can't tell, but I suspect some of the authorities were using tougher seeds than others. Or it may be that some of the authorities had fiercer personalities than others.

But there is another reason why these seeds are interesting. Once that germ gets to coming up through the coat and emerges into the air, it begins to work for your garden. I had better break down and tell you the name of it right now.

RED FLOWER

It is Daubentonia Tripettii, known also as Sesbania Tripettii, and commonly called Red Flowering Wistaria. The plant comes to us from Argentina, its original home.

Out of the seed comes up a thin stem not much thicker than a round toothpick. It shoots up two or three feet; of course the caliper getting bigger until the stem is all of the width of a lead pencil. Then it sends out horizontal branches like arms and all along hang the wistaria-like blossoms which can appear the first year.

The flowers are not lavender, but orange red. The red is almost fiery, it comes like a conflagration all over the plant. It lasts all summer and with rich green foliage, locust-like, it makes what we gardeners in quotation marks call "a handsome shrub." I've been trying for a less worn out word than handsome but have not yet found one that conveys just that idea. If you can think of one, let me know.

BUDS AWAKEN

The first winter, the plant dies down. That is, the leaves turn yellow and then drop. Seed pods hang on the side branches all winter. The second season in

Look to the HEDGES Now!

1. Your privet hedge, your pittosporum hedge, and native cherry hedge can be given a first cutting now. Remember prune your hedge lightly, even twice during the growing season. Such a schedule is better than for you to cut into old hard wood. Hard cuts leave stubs, often injure the plant, besides it takes months before the plant gets over it.

2. Work over the trench under the established hedge. Pull weeds, pull out volunteer strangers too. Scuff up curb to hold water.

3. For your hedge that provides an edible crop such as Meyer lemon, quava, or pomegranate, give especial attention. Plenty of water for the lemon and guava, drought for pomegranate. But for all keep free of dust.

4. It is never too late to plant out a hedge. Now is one of the good times. You put in a new hedge for privacy, to cut out the wind, to create flowery borderline between you and your neighbor.

5. Prepare ground deeply because those roots are to remain for ages. If you do now a good job your hedge will always grow.

6. Make a trench; establish a line with a stout cord, and set out your plants squarely in the center of your trench. When you finish planting make sure you have left a little basin, really a trench so water will flow easily down to the roots.

7. Good hedge plants to consider include Japanese, California, and Texanum privet; pittosporum eugenioides, P. nigricans; native cherry.

8. Some people like a hedge that flowers. They can select from spirea, oleander, abelia, and the rugged butterfly bush.

the spring the terminal bud awakens and the stem shoots up into the air. The ultimate height of this shrub is six feet, though I must confess I've seen plants as much as eight feet tall.

But for the side branches a special care awaits them. What the gardener must do is prune every side branch. These are the ones which carry the flowers and seed pods. These branches must be cut back to the last bud, the bud nearest the main trunk of the plant. From main trunk of the plant. From branch for the new season. And already you've guessed it, on that new branch comes the new flowers of the new year.

SEEDS FREE

Well, now comes the breathless conclusion. I shall be delighted to send you some of these seeds free if in anticipation you will send me an addressed envelope (print your name clearly) and make sure your envelope is decorated with that very essential feature: a three-cent United States postage stamp. This so that I may seal the seeds in and make sure they will go to some one who will give them the appropriate rough treatment to make them germinate.

HOME Garden SECTION

Ferns Require Soil That Retains Moisture

Ferns require a soil retentive of moisture, an abundance of leaf mold. They are not difficult to establish and if not interfered with too much maintain themselves a long time. The principal attention needed is a supply of water if the location or season makes that necessary, and a removal of weeds if any are inclined to start among them. Most of the commoner kinds of ferns are widely distributed and thrive in many different localities.

Any Season

The deciduous ferns may be helped by a mulch of leaves which must not be too heavy as even a light mulch may have to be removed in part before growth starts in the spring. The evergreens will usually do better with a very light mulch or none at all. Deciduous ferns must be moved while dormant, while the evergreen ferns may be moved in any season when the soil is not too cold for the formation of new roots.

One of the largest of the widely distributed American ferns is the Cinnamon Fern, growing two to six feet high in sandy loam that is reasonably moist. The Clayton Fern grows only slightly lower than the Cinnamon Fern but thrives in dryer ground. Dryopteris Ferns grow to a height of about two feet and are found wild over a large part of the country.

Leaf Mold
Ferns, being native-woods plants, do not have a high plant food requirement, and if the soil is enriched with plenty of leaf mold, they need no additional plant food.

Effect of Shade on Plant Growth

The effect of shade is always recognized in plant growth. Plants grown in deep shade always grow "leggy," most grow and grow and grow, and never bloom. If your hydrangea, for example, hasn't bloomed for three years and it's sitting in the shade, look into the problem. Move the plant to more light. The stems then will be short, not leggy, the plant grow more compact, and the blooms appear more regularly.

Casserole of EGG and RICE

Delicious Eating

Truly spectacular in flavor and appearance. Every bite of this magnificent casserole has "come-back-for-more" appeal. The peas, pimiento, and cheese, along with a dash of onion, combine flavors in the rice to produce out-of-this-world eating and make a delicious combination with the decorative Happily, this casserole may be assembled ahead of time. The eggs are added a half-hour before the meal is to be served and while they bake the table is set and the rest of the food assembled. Then prepare to bask in the heap of praise which eaters will send flying.

Ingredients:
3 cups cooked rice
1 1/2 cups cooked peas
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup milk
6 eggs

Preparing the fluffy white rice:
Make 3 liberal cups of fluffy rice; put 1 cup of uncooked rice, 2 cups of cold water and 1 teaspoon of salt in a two-quart saucepan and cover with a tight fitting lid. Bring to a vigorous boil and then turn the heat as low as possible—leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Turn off the heat. This cooking time results in firm grains of cooked rice. For extra tender grains, allow the rice to steam—with heat off—for an additional 5 minutes before removing the lid.

Never remove the lid nor stir rice while it is cooking. After rice is cooked, remove lid, lift rice gently with fork to allow rice to steam dry to the desired consistency. It is then ready—perfectly cooked—with all the grains separate and fluffy. This method allows all the water to be absorbed and the full nutritional value of the rice to be retained.

Method: Mix together the rice, peas, pimiento, parsley, onion, salt, butter or margarine, and half of the cheese. Spread evenly in a greased baking dish. (10 in. x 6 in. x 2 in.) Pour the milk over the rice mixture and drop an egg into each well. Sprinkle the remaining cheese over the top of the eggs and rice. Bake at 350 deg. F. for 30 minutes or until the eggs are set.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Light and Nourishing Custards Choice for Spring and Summer

By MARGUERITE FENNER
Director of Home Economics Pacific Gas & Electric Company
Simple custards and other desserts made with milk and eggs are excellent choices for spring and summer meals. They are light, yet nourishing. They're also easy to make, and you can vary them in many simple ways. These desserts are particularly appropriate in May, the month when we give special attention to the health of our children. Milk supplies many of the nutrients that are so important to a child's growth and health; every child should have from three-fourths to one quart of milk each day. Serving desserts made with milk helps to give him the amount he needs, and in a form which most children like.

Of course, for desserts that can be whipped up in a hurry, there is a wide variety of prepared pudding mixes now available in grocery stores. But there are a few old-fashioned favorites which every homemaker should be able to make—such as Baked Custard, Soft Custard, Tapioca Cream, and the two we are giving you here. The Rice and Raisin Custard is simply a variation of today hailed as "a miracle" the survival of 74-year-old Thompson, Mission San Jose man who lived for a week on after collapsing in a hayfield two miles from his home

Thompson first was reported missing at 8 p.m. last Friday. At that time, it became known that he is "Aerial" Robert Thompson, whose high-wire stunts thrilled world-wide audiences a generation ago.

Thompson, said to be suffering from a heart ailment and to be "confused" mentally, wandered away from the home he and his wife have occupied here for several years.

"I'm going to work," Mrs. Thompson said he told her. Within minutes the aged man had disappeared in the direction of the highway. He was not seen again until yesterday.

Numerous sheriff's deputies aided by neighbors and Irvington Boy Scouts, combed the area west of the town for hours last week-end and again during the week without finding a trace of Thompson.

Thompson's career spanned 30 years during which he rode his bicycle on circus highwires throughout this country, Europe and Asia. Mrs. Thompson assisted in the act, perching below the bicycle on a bar. Thompson walked a wire stretched between masts of the Battleship California in San Francisco Bay in 1921, performed atop the Hotel St. Francis, and was a regular attraction at Neptune Beach.

FOREMOST FORGER OPERATES HERE

Local merchants are warned to be on the lookout for Walter Demeter, about 40, California's most notorious bad-check artist, who last week reportedly victimized a businessman here with a $75 draft.

Sheriff's Capt. Richard Condon said Demeter, tall and heavy set, passed the check by forging the signature of a well-known township man, then representing it as a payroll check.

Demeter—who has a spectacular prison record and a hundred aliases—has been sought by police throughout California for several years.

In 1921 he became interested in the area around Centerville, and in 1925 he took over the old Chadbourne ranch, holding it until 1938.

It was his plant in Centerville which was first in this area to operate a certain kind of process to make safer the product he sells (if we told you what the product is, it would be a dead give-away).

In 1947, he and his wife took a trip back to their native land, Switzerland. "It took us 44 years to save the money," he laughed. He has never regretted coming to this country, and is very proud to see Washington Township grow as it has.

Guess Who!

NILES SCHOOL GIRL TAKEN BY DEATH

Lupe Eleazararaz, 14, who would have received her diploma at graduation exercises from the Niles Elementary School in June, died Wednesday at Children's Hospital following an operation.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anacleto Eleazararaz of Niles, she is survived by twelve brothers and sisters.

This is the appeal that will be made to Washington Township by the American Legion Auxiliary on Poppy Days, May 23 and 24, says Mrs. Bette Pool, poppy chairman of Unit No. 195 of the Auxiliary.

Women of the Auxiliary will be on the streets throughout both days, offering the symbolic memorial poppies and receiving contributions for the Auxiliary.

Ten school district elections will be held in Washington Township today, including one on a $100,000 bond issue and another pitting a veteran trustee against a young newcomer.

The $100,000 bond election as Mission San Jose is paired with a vote to continue the extra 50-cent tax rate in that district.

In Decoto, Manuel White, clerk of the board of trustees since 1943, faces the township's sole opposing candidate in the person of Frank Kowalewski, who lives in Hillview Crest.

Trustees also are to be named in the other seven elementary schools as soon as the present Bay Area carpenter's strike ends. They added they hope to employ 60 local men as soon as the plant is finished—presumably next January.

The plant will be built of concrete, glass and corrugated Transite, and will be handled by a San Francisco contractor. It will be located on Blacow Road near Central.

Only about 300 voters are eligible to ballot in Mission San Jose. Trustee Michael Overacker explains the $100,000 issue is needed to insure that Mission San Jose will continue as an independent district.

The district now has no bonded indebtedness, and can fit its 100 pupils fairly comfortably into the present school. However, Overacker stresses, the coming of new subdivisions makes it imperative that the district keep ahead in its season. It is not necessary to use the ticket during May.

Residents of Washington Township may make appointments to give blood at the Red Cross blood mobile unit stations on May 19 at the Veterans Memorial Building, Niles. Telephone Centerville 8-8359 for appointment.

The second proposal on the Mission ballot would retain the 50-cent special operating tax placed atop the regular 80-cent levy five years ago. If passed, it would enable the trustees to keep it without further elections. The tax needs only a majority to win, but the bonds require a two-thirds vote to succeed.

At Alvarado, one incumbent, G. H. Hocking, retired from the school board and his place is to be filled without contest by Warren Silva, president of the local Chamber of Commerce.

'Trend of Times'

Mrs. Elizabeth King of Chicago writes: "I was left penniless at the age of 56 and in desperation I opened up a morning and evening nursery for children. I was very discouraged the first year, but now the idea has caught on for now I have turned my entire house over to this profitable hobby." . . . Mary Alice Jennett of New Orleans writes: "The only hobby I cared for was the pressing of flowers, and now I find I can sell these pressed flowers to gift shops and greeting card companies who use them for decorations." . . . Mrs. James W. of Connecticut writes: "I was able to send my three children through college by my hobby which is buying old houses and fixing them up, and then offering them for sale. I broke even on the first two houses, but now I am able to make them pay out profitably, for I buy with greater knowledge and have the knack of selling." . . . Yes we all can make money at home, and our hobbies can be made to pay out. . . .

You'll Splash With a SWIM SUIT

New 1952 Style

By HELEN WEILL, Fashion Editor

To be ahead of summer you of course will want the splash of swimsuits of 1952. They are in color and novelty that is almost unbelievable. They have fashion and usefulness too. Each design has individuality for each member of the family.

First, for you who for some summers past, have wished to "go near the water" but not to get too wet; because the swim suit styles were just too-too. . . . There is a smart faille in dark color or black, designed in a princess slinging line with a full flare skirt. Pearl buttons follow the line of the two panel seams, giving an added slenderizing effect. The cuffed bodice has detachable shoulder straps. And under all is a separate elasticized panty.

CUTIE PAIR

Another simple suit that scales down the inches, is the one with the separate lastique trunk worn under a full flared skirt. The top is a longer torso, and used a medium width belt.

If you are one who likes the mama-daughter ensemble, a cutie pair comes in check gingham for thee and for the wee one. This is a romper, with terry cloth matching packet. A snug inner bra fits into your suit.

A new interpretation of the old-time chemise is a belted white pique. This is worn over the broadcloth swimsuit, and is smart in red or navy that matches the binding on the white pique. The suit buttons down the front with the detachable shoulder straps.

SARONG

A most novel "match-mate" outfit is the hand-printed hibiscus sarong. This is in satin elastic. Handsome husband's rayon shorts are plain, but his jacket has a full hibiscus splashed on the back. While over the sarong suit, you may wear a matching stole, literally covered with splashes of the same busy.

The wee one, lil' sis, will be darling in her ruffled nylon. This has the elastic shirred waist and a drawstring bow neckline.

For the slim miss, who can wear glamour and still go in the water, the Roman-stripe, with stripes going round and round, hand printed on satin the revolutionary Acala 4-42 cotton seed, have had their origin at the local U.S. Department of Agriculture Cotton Experimental Farm; that this little California burg has one of the biggest concentrations of cotton ginning and processing operations in the U.S. Some 25 cotton gins headquarter in Shafter.

Shafter Fete . . .

POTATO SIDE

On the potato side of the story, the C of C contends the nerve which made "Shafter Long Whites," (earliest U.S. spud) a byword with Eastern housewives, is the same nerve which has kept California potatoes more than competitive with spud from Eastern states, despite the great freight differential. It points out also, that the little group of growers that pioneered the Shafter industry are still the dominant leaders in the potato industry in Kern County.

Besides, it's no sin to be boastful in California. If you don't deal in superlatives, you're sunk.
